DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-2, drawn to an extract of Scutellaria laterifolia L. having a content of flavonoids, calculated as the sum of baicalin, scutellarin, dihydrobaicalin, ikonnikoside I, lateriflorin, baicalein, lateriflorein and wogonin, classified in class 424, subclass 741.
- II. Claims 3-7, drawn to a process for obtaining an extract of Scutellaria laterifolia L. rich in flavonoids, said process comprising combining dried Scutellaria laterifolia L. plant material with a solvent to form a solution; and separating solid material from said solution after a predetermined period, whereby said extract has a content of flavonoids, calculated as the sum of baicalin, scutellarin, dihydrobaicalin, ikonnikoside I, lateriflorin, baicalein, lateriflorein and wogonin, classified in class 514, subclass 27 or class 514, subclass 456, for example.
- III. Claims 8-11, drawn to a composition comprising extract of Scutellaria laterifolia L. combined with a stabilizing agent, classified in class 424, subclass 741 or class 514, subclass 474, for example.
- IV. Claims 12-19, drawn to a process for obtaining on extract of Scutellaria laterifolia L. said process comprising: combining dried Scutellaria laterifolia L. plant material with a solvent to form a solution; adding a stabilizing agent to said solution; and separating solid material from said solution after a predetermined period, classified in class 474, subclass 471 or class 514, subclass 783, for example.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product. For example, in U.S. Patent 6608102, Howell et al. teach a method of making a proanthocyanidin extract comprising combining dried leaves or fruit of Vaccinium macrocarpon with a solvent (40% acetone, 40% methanol, 20% water, 0.1% ascorbic acid) to form a slurry and removing insoluble particulate matter.

Inventions III and IV are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product. For example, in U.S. 2774714, Hershberg et al. teach a method of making sapogenins from the yucca plant comprising extracting dried leaves with a solvent and filtering off the solid material.

Art Unit: 1654

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for one Group is not required for another Group, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
